MemHT Portal 3.4.5

03/12/2007 21:20 by mem

After only two weeks from the release of the 3.4 version, i've decided to publish MemHT Portal 3.4.5.

It's a minor release, indeed it contains a low number of changes, but they seriously affect the cms speed and code optimization.

The most important modification concerns the prototype framework, now opened only when needed. This lowers the size of the biggest part of pages up to 40% (that as we all know means faster pages and less bandwidth consumption).

Among the other news, stands out the template engine enhancement. Now, it supports different structures and styles for each blocks side.
